Supervisor Sophie Maxwell and the India Basin Neighborhood Association have asked the City to make 900 Innes Avenue a San Francisco City Landmark.

Now YOU can help save this historic building and honor Hunters Point history.

Please contact the Board of Supervisors and ask them to VOTE YES!

Built circa 1875, the Italianate cottage at 900 Innes Avenue was the centerpiece of union wooden boat building—called shipwrighting—on India Basin. Among the hundreds of boats built here: the scow schooner Alma, now a tourist attraction at the National Maritime Museum at Fisherman's Wharf, Jack London's adventure boat the Snark, and WWII Victory launches.
